Teaching: Trusting God

Since I came to MTDM, I've learned through the word of God how to put my trust in the Lord not myself (Proverbs 3:5-6). When I came to MTDM I felt like I was loosing my mind and couldn't see how God could bring me out. Through the word of God, the teaching of Apostle Amanda Bryant and surrounding myself around like minded believers, I regained strength that sustained me as I stayed focused on the things of God. I'll never forget when Apostle prophesied to me, that I will meet someone who's going to be everything to me and my child that my ex-husband wasn't. Never did I know, who God had for me was in the church being prepared as well until my spiritual eyes wear open to see him. My spirit man was drawn to his sprit like a magnet, something I've never felt before. it was unexplainable because it wasn't a natural attraction, it was spiritual. I understand why God's word says, "I know the plans I have for you, plans to prosper you, not to harm you, plans to give you hope and a future"(Jer 29:11). There's nothing good in the flesh and our flesh can lead you down a road of destruction Romans 8:13.

Verse of the Month:

Colossians 3:20 & Deuteronomy 31:6

Jayiona Bryant

Colossians 3:20 is a reminder that no matter what you should always obey your parent or guardian therefore it is right with the Lord. It is always important to obey your parents not only because it's pleasing unto the lord but also because they do a lot for you. sometimes you might not want to do the dishes or take the trash out because you don't feel like it, and that can make you annoyed with your parents or not want to listen to them. in times like that you always have to remember all the things your parents do for you, they work, feed you, and make sure you have somewhere to sleep every night. so every time you're not listening to your parents think about this scripture and what the Lord would want you to do.

Deuteronomy 31:6 is an important reminder that God is ALWAYS with you. especially in times when you feel like you have nobody he's always with you and watching making sure your protected. even when you're alone and scared or someone else is with you he's always there. You might think "oh this isn't true God's s not with me because I can't physically see him" , in that case you thought wrong. even if you're not able to see him he's always in your heart and he'll never fail to be there. So don't let the enemy fool you and make you think he's going to leave you like any other friend would. You could think of him as the best friend that sticks by your side through out your whole life. He's never fake or back stabbing and he definitely won't say anything negative about you. when you ever feel alone or scared or like you have nobody always remember your very best friend (God) will ALWAYS be by your side.
